Office. Israel's schievements in the advancement of trade union activities, cooperatives, workers' housing, social insurance, vocastional training, the rehabilitation of disabled persons etc. It would be of great interest to other countries, and the use of the ILO's information channels for the purpose would help to make Israel better known and respected.

For instance, the discussion on vocational training in agriculture, which is to begin at the ILO's Conference this summer, is an excellent opportunity for letting the other 69 member countries know what has been done in Israel to transform thousands of backward new-corners into farmers, Nahal is another unique experiment worth telling the world about.
